8. Fill out the form and add any required data.

 If a payer requires you to report both the purchase price and the rental price on the same claim, fill out the rental fields (Rental Unit Price, DME Length of Necessity, Rental Total Price, and DME Frequency). The Total Rental Price is automatically calculated as Rental Unit Price × Length of Medical Necessity. For example, a Rental Unit Price of $50 (billed monthly) with a Length of Medical Necessity of 4 months results in a Total Rental Price of $200 (separate from the purchase price, which might be $500).

 If you're only reporting the rental price for a piece of DME, you don't need to fill out these fields, simply enter the rental amount using the standard Unit Price, Units, and Total Charges fields, just as you would for any other charge.

9. Click Apply.

10. Click Save.
